Grief Support and Discussion

Organizations

- Actively Moving Forward
 - <https://healgrief.org/actively-moving-forward/>
 - “Actively Moving Forward® (AMF) is a national network created in response to the needs of grieving young adults. For over a decade, we have connected, supported and empowered grieving young adults to “actively move forward” in memory of their person. These young adults support one another and are encouraged to actively move forward in memory of their person.”
 - “Due to the need, the AMF model has expanded its demographic to include all young adults, aged up to, and including 30. This program is currently actively moving forward coast-to-coast.”
- At Work
 - (offshoot from The Dinner Party)
 - <https://www.thedinnerparty.org/atwork>
 - We bring peer-to-peer support practices into workplaces and organizations to better support employees who are struggling with loss. We reestablish trust after difficult times and use the shared experience to build a deeply connected, energized and effective culture.
- CoVID Grief Network
 - Undoing isolation for young adults grieving the illness or death of someone close to COVID-19
 - <https://www.covidgriefnetwork.org/>
- The Compassionate Friends
 - <https://www.compassionatefriends.org/>
 - Supporting families after a child dies
- The Dinner Party
 - <https://www.thedinnerparty.org/>
 - “The Dinner Party is a platform for grieving 20- and 30-somethings to find peer community and build lasting relationships. We screen, train and support a growing network of peer hosts, and connect them to 12-15 people nearby, who share a similar age and loss experience. What started as an experiment on a back deck in Los Angeles, has served well over 10,000 grieving young people to date. Today, 4,000+ active members gather bimonthly at 400+ local tables in over 100 cities and towns worldwide.”

- Domani for Grief

- <https://www.domaniforgrief.com/>
- “A platform created with a single goal in mind: to provide in one place the best and most trusted resources, support, and information available to begin the healing process. Explore our courses, read our blog, join our live events, sign up for our monthly e-newsletter.”

- The Dougy Center

- <https://www.dougy.org/>
- provides support in a safe place where children, teens, young adults, and their families grieving a death can share their experiences. We provide support and training locally, nationally, and internationally to individuals and organizations seeking to assist children in grief. Through our Pathways program, we provide a safe place for families living with an advanced serious illness.

- Ernest Becker Foundation

- <http://ernestbecker.org/>
- Established in 1993, the Ernest Becker Foundation seeks to advance understanding of how the unconscious denial of mortality profoundly influences human behavior. Ernest Becker laid the foundation for this work in his Pulitzer Prize-winning book The Denial of Death.

- Green-Wood Cemetery Events

- <https://www.green-wood.com/calendar/>
- Cemetery in Brooklyn
- They have tons of in-person and online programming related to history, culture, art, and grief support.

- Grief In Common

- <https://www.griefincommon.com/>
- The only online community designed to connect those who are grieving based on background and similar experiences for chats and opportunities to meet in person.

- The Grief Practice

- <https://www.thegriefpractice.com/>
- “A storybook and workbook for moving with and through grief. Through stories and practices The Grief Practice explains and explores grief in the body in a beautiful and comprehensible way. The ancient practices of yoga and mindfulness are offered through a trauma-informed and science-based lens, creating an accessible path to grief through yoga designed to support and welcome grief.”

- “This the story of grief, as told by you—the many hearts and many voices, compiled together in book form, infused with practices designed to support the unfurling of what aches the most, with this companion website offering resources, as well as ongoing stories of living grief.”

 - <http://toodamnyoung.com/>
 - A COMMUNITY + RESOURCE FOR TEENS AND YOUNG ADULTS WHO ARE NAVIGATING GRIEF.

- Uplift Philly
 - <https://upliftphilly.org/>
 - Uplift offers peer support groups for children and teens in grades K-12th who have experienced the death of someone significant in their lives. Peer support and a caring adult presence help to reduce the feelings of isolation and loneliness that children often experience after death.
 - Uplift has multiple locations around the city of Philadelphia. Creative activities and games allow children to express their thoughts and feelings about death. All groups are divided by age and developmental level to best tailor our support programs. Uplift also offers caregiver groups at the same time to provide support for adults raising a grieving child.

- What's Your Grief?

- <https://whatsyourgrief.com/>
- As mental health professionals who have experienced significant losses ourselves, we know individual grief is unique and there is no “right” way to cope. Our goal is to create a community that provides hope, support, and education to anyone wishing to understand the complicated experience of life after loss.

- Freya Powell
 - <http://www.freyapowell.com/>
 - Freya Powell’s performance project, Only Remains Remain, draws from the Greek tragedy, Antigone, to create an elegy for the hundreds of unidentified migrants buried in mass graves in Sacred Heart Cemetery in Brooks County, Texas. Working with an ensemble of 15 performers, Powell explores the mournful potential of the voice. Through a collaborative process, the work utilizes pitch, intonation, breath, movement, and silence to embody a contemporary tragedy through the structure of a Sophoclean chorus.

 - "Terrible, Thanks For Asking" is the opposite of that. Nora McNerny asks real people to share their complicated and honest feelings about how they really are. It's sometimes sad, sometimes funny, and often both.
 - TTFA was named one of the best podcasts three years in a row by The Atlantic. The New York Times calls it "a gift to be able to listen."

- Death Cafe
 - <https://deathcafe.com/>
 - At a Death Cafe people, often strangers, gather to eat cake, drink tea and discuss death. Our objective is 'to increase awareness of death with a view to helping people make the most of their (finite) lives'. A Death Cafe is a group directed discussion of death with no agenda, objectives or themes. It is a discussion group rather than a grief support or counselling session.
 - Death Cafe is a 'social franchise'. This means that people who sign up to our guide and principles can use the name Death Cafe, post events to this website and talk to the press as an affiliate of Death Cafe.
- Death Over Dinner
 - <https://deathoverdinner.org/>
 - “This project was created as a gift, an invitation and a simple set of tools to help families and friends address the basic human fact that we are all, at some point, going to die. We suffer more when we don’t communicate our wishes, we suffer less when we know how to honor the wishes of our loved ones. As we build greater comfort and literacy around this important topic, every single one of us wins.”

- Death Reference Desk
 - <http://www.deathreferencedesk.org/>
 - Center for Death and Society is by the same guy
 - “Welcome to the Death Reference Desk! We scour the web and beyond for All Things Death: the bizarre, the batty and the beautiful, from interesting blogs and recommended books to commentary and analysis of death in the news. We’re talkin’ good death. Bad death. Interesting, bizarre, nuanced death. Culturally and politically charged death. Scientific death and the ideas over time that have gripped the heart and mind regarding what it is and what happens thereafter. We are also a bona fide reference desk. Have a death-related question? Ask us!”

 - <http://www.orderofthegooddeath.com/>
 - From “Deathfluencer” Caitlin Doughty
 - Mortician, author, “Ask a Mortician”
 - Her website: <https://linktr.ee/thegooddeath>
 - She believed that change would only happen with a better funeral industry, where the family could be involved with the process, and the dead weren’t hidden behind closed doors (or closed vans). Even though she had no online presence and no funeral home of her own, she began to reach out to people, including funeral industry professionals, academics, and artists who were exploring ways to prepare a death phobic culture for their inevitable mortality. She found kindred spirits and a community, and wanted everyone to know the incredible people that were working to remedy our crippling fear of death

- Reddit Communities
 - Reddit is actually a great resource for death positivity.
 - r/deathpositive is run by The Order of the Good Death and is a great place to keep up to date with their activities.
 - r/deathlings is a great collection of news and information.
 - And although it isn’t a death positive resource, r/askfuneraldirectors is a great resource for anyone thinking about a job in death care, or are curious about funeral directing in general.
